BACK FROM LOS ANGELES. P. F. Bray Had Fine Time with the Three Norwich Young Men Left Elks.

The first of the Elks from this part of the state to get back home from the long trip to Los Angeles, Cali-fornia, Patrick F. Bray, the well-known druggist, arrived in town Sun-known druggist, arrived in town Sunday afternoon from New London. "A grand time," said Mr. Bray, when asked regarding his experiences. But he did not want to be quoted as saying that he would like to stay out there.

Mr. Bray pulled out of Hartford on the Connecticut train which had on board from Norwich Judge and Mrs. Nelson J. Ayling, on July 5. The trip to Los Angeles took a little over five days, as they left Hartford Monday noon and arrived at their destination."

This morning three young fellows who are devoutly thanking their lucky stars on their narrow escape.

Sunday afternoon, Stanley MacDonald, Edmund Raughtigan, and Herman Bruckner, all of this city, decided that they wanted a trip on the water, so son in a rowboat they were gliding along the surface of the river near Cow point, which is just below the Harvard quarters at Gaies Ferry. All went well until the boys discovered that their craft was beginning to fill. They rowed with might to the nearby days, as they left Hartford Monday moon and arrived at their destination Friday night at 8 o'clock. At Los Angeles Mr. Bray had a long list of people from this part of the state to visit, but the convention and sight-seeing kept him so busy that he did not make a great many calls.

They rowed with might to the nearby dolphin which marks the channel, which they reached just as the row-boat sank. Two of the young men were unable to swim, and as they were in the deep channel they made haste to get hold of the spiles of the dolphin which marks the channel, which they reached just as the row-boat sank. Two of the young men were unable to swim, and as they were in the deep channel they made haste to get hold of the spiles of the dolphin which marks the channel.

But in Pasadena Mr. Bray fell in with a former resident of this part of the state who was attracted by Mr. Bray's Connecticut badge, who proved to be Attorney Guy Richards Crump, rising young lawyer of Pasadena, hose father. Judge Crump of the court of common pleas, was well known in New London county. They had a long talk and upon parting they exchanged badges.

The people of Pasadena were very hospitable and as each train rolled in, oranges and plums fresh from the trees
